Newton strengthens institutional account management team

Susan Gostick joins the team

LONDON, 26 May 2009 – Newton Investment Management, part of BNY Mellon Asset Management, has appointed Susan Gostick as head of its institutional account management team.

Gostick has over 20 years of investment and pensions experience. She joined Newton from Lazard Asset Management where she was director - institutions, responsible for a broad range of clients including pension plans, corporations, sovereign wealth funds and charities in the UK, Europe and Middle East.

Previous experience includes Merrill Lynch Investment Management where she was a director and senior relationship manager, and Noble Lowndes where she was a senior pensions consultant. Gostick will be responsible for a number of Newton's key institutional relationships and will be based in London.

Commenting on the appointment, Matt Duncan, head of business strategy at Newton said: "We are delighted to have Susan as part of our team. Her wealth of institutional experience will be invaluable to us as we continue to build and improve our institutional client service offering."

Newton has been managing equity and fixed income mandates for over 30 years. The company currently manages approximately £34bn on behalf of clients globally.
